EMPLOYMENT DISQUALIFIERS

As a criminal justice agency, the responsibilities of the OAG require public trust. Therefore, the OAG seeks to hire and employ only those whose conduct, character and behavior do not discredit either themselves or the OAG. For this reason and to ensure compliance with the Kansas Criminal Justice Information System (KCJIS) Administrative Policies and Procedures, the hiring process screens the criminal history of those applicants who are presented a conditional offer of employment. A criminal history records check will include diversions and/or expunged records.

Generally, the following may be considered to be disqualifiers for employment in any position with the OAG. This list is not comprehensive in that other factors, alone or cumulative, may preclude employment with the OAG.

- Any felony conviction.
- Any outstanding criminal charge pending adjudication.
- Sufficient misdemeanor convictions to establish a pattern of disregard for the law.
- Any sexually motivated crime or other offense requiring registration.
- Conduct relating to domestic violence.
- Any conviction of resisting arrest.

  - Racing.
- Current illegal drug use.
- Any illegal drug (except marijuana) conviction, diversion, or adjudication; or arrest without disposition.
